SIMS DEFENDANT IN SUIT BROUGHT BY MRS. HOLLOWELL

Amended to Permit His Name to be Added to List Already Included.

Robert Hollowell's Case to be Tried This Month.

WHERE JURY WILL COME FROM

An amended petition was filed in the federal court this morning by Mrs. Mary L. Hollowell against John E. Hollowell and others, in which she names William Sims of Caldwell county, defendant in the action, which she brought to recover $50,000 damages as a result of an alleged night rider raid. It is stated that at the time of the raid she failed to recognize Sims as one of the mob, but since she has discovered evidence that causes her to have reasonable grounds to believe he was there. Mrs. Hollowell also alleges that the motive of the mob in driving her out of the state was to prevent her testifying as a witness against the defendants.

The Robert Hollowell suit is not amended as this case stands for trial at the special term of federal court called by Judge Evans for May 11.

Much speculation is indulged in as to where the jury will come from. Judge Evans stated at the close of the first trial that the panel would come from places not affected or influenced. It is believed the entire venire will come from Jefferson and probably one other county and that the most prominent business men in the state will be selected.

BALLARD BANK CASE

Nothing sensational has developed in the robbery of the Ballard County bank according to the police, and it is believed there will not be any arrests until after the grand jury, which is in session at Wickliffe, returns some indictments. More witnesses were before the jury today. Chief Collins says that the Paducah detectives have completed their work, and the field is left to the Pinkerton detectives. This afternoon Chief Collins had little to say about the robbery, but said there might be men arrested for the robbery, who have never been connected with it in the public mind. Others who have been connected with the robbery by common talk, the chief says are innocent.

John Bulger and Ernest Elmendorf, charged with being common gamblers, were held to answer in police court this morning by Judge Cross. Many witnesses were introduced by the commonwealth, and there were several bad memories. The bond of each was fixed at $150.

MONEY LENDERS WIN

The ordinance requiring money lenders to pay $500 licensees was declared invalid this morning in police court by Judge Cross in the two cases against E. H. Egan and the two cases against James T. Smith. The case will be taken to the court of appeals.

Attorney Mike Oliver filed a demurrer and alleged that the license was class legislation, that it was prohibitive and that it discriminated in favor of one class. His contention was that the city had no right to prohibit business by an indirect means when it could not do so by direct means. City Attorney Arthur Martin argued for the city and the lawyers were loaded with authorities. Judge Cross held that the ordinance came within the meaning of class legislation, and sustained the demurrer and denied the warrant.

DID FINE BUSINESS WITH BUZZ-FANS, POLICE SAY, UNTIL PEOPLE GOT NEXT

All Kinds of Exchanges Effected Among Paducah Business Houses by Energetic Fixer.

Charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, W. S. Walter was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Patrolman William Johnson and Detective Emile Gourieux. It is alleged that Walter went to business houses, and made contracts to repair and clean buzz fans. He took them from the owners and the police, it is claimed, have discovered where they were his property. Walter was arrested yesterday afternoon while trying to secure a third fan, it is said, from Harbour's department store. This morning his case was continued until Monday morning.

Two weeks ago the police received complaints about missing fans and have been on the watchout for the thief. Some one secured a fan from A. D. Buchanan's restaurant, 219 Kentucky avenue, and it was sold to M. Marks, a clothier on South Second street. The man took two fans from Harbour's department store and sold one to Clarence Miller, agent for the Henderson Brewing company, and sold the other one to Bartender Washington, of the Palmer House. He agreed to clean and repair a fan for Mr. Miller, but the buzz fan has not been found. A fan was taken from D. E. Wilson, and it has not been traced to where it was sold.

Bartender Craig, of C. W. Rodfus' saloon, agreed to have Walter repair his fan, and instead of returning it, Walter is said to have sold it to J. P. Fowler, Second street and Kentucky avenue. John Rehkopf purchased a fan from Walters and David Dersperger also bought a fan from the

POSTOFFICE HAS BIG INCREASE TO START NEW YEAR

"Uncle Sam" is certainly doing a good business with his local postoffice, as evidenced by the monthly reports of business covering the new year. Every month this year has shown an increase over last year, but April scored far greater gain than any other month. The sales for April last year were $4,795.07, and this year $5,893.35, an increase of $791.28. April is the first month of the fiscal year.

Local wholesale houses report a marked improvement in business for April, and daily evidences of improvements in all lines of trade are observable. The railroads report a noticeable improvement, the first they will admit of, in the last few weeks, and the river business is also reporting nice increases.

The second engine followed, but the coaches remained on the rails.

Carl Mange, riding the blind baggage, was seriously hurt and buried under the wreckage. He was not found until he was dug out. George Ehle, fireman of the second engine, was scalped. The mail car was hurled on its side. A cold storage fish car was demolished. The train was going forty miles an hour when the explosion lifted the engine from the track.

Wheat Took Flight When News Got Out That Armour Had Cornered All May Cereal in Sight—Corn Goes Up

Exciting Times in Chicago Pit
When Shorts Try to Cover and Send Price of May Product Skyward in Effort.

NIGHT RIDERS IN CALLOWAY MAY BE OFF GUARD A DAY

Chicago, May 2.—Scenes rivaling

in excitement the wildest flurries on the board of trade in the days of "Old Hatch," Partridge and other spectacular plungers, were enacted in the Chicago wheat pit. Wheat soared and so did oats and corn. The cause of the commotion was the discovery that the grain markets have been cornered. At least this is the way the "shorts" looked at the situation.

When they tried to cover their trades in when they found little stuff for sale, and they then awoke to the realization that the Armour Grain company owns practically the whole supply of May wheat in the local elevators—about 6,500,000 bushels—and that the same interests were still buying every loose bushel in sight.

When this fact dawned upon the "shorts" everybody tried to buy wheat, but the Armour people, who alone had the goods, were slow to respond. They let go in driblets only. In the evening the quotations jumped to 104. Subsequently the price was allowed to recede to 103 1/2.

Pattern Has the Corn.

While wheat was making its upward flight James A. Patten, widely known in grain circles as the "corn and oats" specialist, kept his weather eye on the markets to which he is giving his particular attention. On delivery before the opening Mr. Patten was "handed," according to careful estimate 6,000,000 bushel of oats and 3,000,000 bushels of corn.

According to report current on the exchange floor, Armour, while gunning for the beers in wheat, has been opposing Mr. Patten and his associates in oats and corn. The bulk of the big deliveries of the latter, it is said, were made by the bear interests.

Brokers who are supposed to know say that Armour now owns practically all the contract wheat in store in Chicago, while the Patten crowd is in possession of the corn and oats.

Magistrate Emery has been expecting to be removed ever since the change from a Democratic to a Republican administration was made. He has served two years and has made a good record, collecting several large sums in back taxes, from several individuals. He is now interested in a large number of cases.

Carl Mange, riding the blind baggage, was seriously hurt and buried under the wreckage. He was not found until he was dug out. George Ehle, fireman of the second engine, was scalped. The mail car was hurled on its side. A cold storage fish car was demolished. The train was going forty miles an hour when the explosion lifted the engine from the track.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly removes it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulence, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The operating expenses of Columbia College for the present year are $1,552,563.

Magazine Club to Meet at Woodland. The Magazine Club will be entertained in Tuesday morning by Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips at her at-with the proper authorities in regard to having the Flag placed on all the public buildings, the library, schools and city buildings. Mrs. Charles K. Wheeler and Dr. Della Caldwell were appointed to confer with Superintendent J. A. Carnegie as to the school children being trained to stand when the National Airs are played and to salute the Flag. Each member of the chapter pledged herself to set an example in this.

Dr. Della Caldwell, chairman of the Memorial Mountain committee, read a letter just received from Mr. Lorado Taft, of Chicago, stating that he had about completed the model for the fountain and that the picture would be sent to the chapter in a few days. An interesting character sketch of Rebecca Irwin Boone was given by Miss Mattie Fowler. Mrs. George B. Hart gave some attractive music.

A report of the D. A. R. National Congress, just closed in Washington, was given by Mrs. Eli G. Boone, the regent of chapter. Mrs. Boone was an interested attendant at all the sessions and her report was an enthusiastic summary of the most notable features of the event. Mrs. Boone gave it most attractively and covered the wide field in a brilliant way. The chapter heard with especial interest that when Mrs. Chevannut, the state regent, made her report before the congress, of the 22 chapters of the state she only singled out three for especial mention and the Paducah chapter was one of the three, a most signal and deserved compliment.

There was a large attendance of the members and three new members were added to the chapter: Mrs. T. E. Holland, Mrs. I. D. Wilcox and Mrs. Paul Provine.

Pretty Luncheon in Wedding Color Motif.

Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory was the hostess of a beautiful luncheon on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at her home, "Hill Hall," Gregory Place. The girls of honor were Miss Marjorie Scott, a bride of the week, and her mother, Mrs. Lucy Bruen, of Webb City, Mo.; Miss Else Ober, of St. Louis. The appointments of the table, cut out the lavender and pink colors of the wedding. The center piece was an effective arrangement of sweet peas, the wedding flowers, the colors lavender, pink, plum and white. Covera were served with these and the plates were wreathed with red roses. Besides the two guests of honor there were: Miss June Skellington, of Dyersburg, Tenn.; Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mrs. I. D. Wilcox, Mrs. W. B. McPherson, Mrs. R. B. Phillips, Mrs. William Masbie, Mrs. Louise Maxwell, Mrs. John Keller, Mrs. Richard Terrell, Mrs. May Rieke, Mrs. John Scott, Miss Carrie Rieke, Miss Mary Boswell.

D. A. R. Chapter.

Mrs. Sue Morrow was hostess to the Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Friday afternoon at her home on Jefferson street. It was the regular meeting of the chapter, but May Day was emphasized in a pretty and patriotic way. The front porch and doorway were pink with flags. Sweet pens in the colors of pink and white, were in colorful profusion throughout the room. The leaves and calyxes of the daylily and white chrysanthemum emphasized the pink and white motif in an attractive way.

At the business session, which are of two steps, there were two meetings that are of more than usual interest and that promise far-reaching results. Mrs. S. B. Phillips and Mrs. Emily Morris were made a committee to consult informed A. M. for Visitors.

Mrs. A. G. Johnson entertained in formally or Thursday afternoon at her home on North Fifth street complimenting to Mrs. Hallie C. Hewlett, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Mrs. William H. Pinkerton, of Ghent, Ky. The luncheon was prettily decorated with sweat pens and the colors lavender and pink were attractively emphasized in the appointments of the luncheon. The out-of-town guests present in addition to the guests of honor were: Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Lucy Bruen, of Webb City, Mo.; Miss Else Ober, of

St. Louis; Miss Elizabeth Gregory, of Louisville.

Planting a tree.

The following beautiful poem was read by Mrs. Vida Wards, president of the local Ford's association at the open meeting held last week at the Woman's club house, and is most happily suggestive of the glory and greatness of the work:

"What do we do when we plant the tree?

We plant the ship which will cross the sea;

We plant the mast to carry the sails;

We plant the planks to withstand the tempest;

We plant the keelson, and beam and

We plant the ship when we plant the tree.

What do we do when we plant the tree?

We plant the houses for you and for me;

We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,

We plant the studding, the lathes, the doors.

What do we do when we plant the tree?

We plant the beams, the sidings, all parts that be;

We plant the house, when we plant the tree.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?

A thousand things that we daily see;

We plant the spire that out-towers the crags;

We plant the staff from which waves the flag;

We plant the spade from the hot sun free;

We plant all these when we plant the tree."

Complimentary Dinner to Attractive Tenants

see Women.

Mrs. Clarence Sherrill's Information on Thursday afternoon from 1:30 until 6 p.m. was a pretty compliment to her house guest, Miss Mary Swig-gart, of Union City, Tenn., and to Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville,

Tenn., who is visiting Mrs. Robert

Becker Phillips. The attractive Sherrill home on Fountain avenue was especially effective in its decorations, carnations with ferns being used throughout. The hall was a gymnasium in red. In the parlor white carnations with the green made a charming effect. The appointments of the dining room were pink and the table held an artistic basket of pink carnations.

Personally appeared before me, the Governor of Kentucky's three representatives for Kentucky at the conference to be held at the white house May 13 to 15 paves the way for active participation by the state in a meeting which promises important results to the whole country, says the Courier-Journal. The conference is the idea of the president. —

THE POINT OF VIEW.

How easy it is to asperse the motives of another, and how suspicious a person's conduct becomes when he is accused of wrong doing, were shown in the submarine boat scandal, which has proved a mystifying circle ending with the identification of an anonymous letter writer. Representative Lilley charged the electric boat concern with exercising undue influence at Washington, and it was discovered that his first information came from an anonymous letter. The letter was traced to an officer of a competing company, but in the meantime bureau officials and the secretary of the navy as well as numerous congressmen were on the carpet, and all their transactions in the boat line looked suspiciously as if they were favoring the electric company, until the mystery was cleared. Then their conduct appeared perfectly natural. There is a great deal in the point of view, and a man as well as a building looks crooked, when viewed from a queer angle.

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

"The Morning Register having gone into the hands of a receiver at Paducah, the News-Democrat, one of the afternoon papers, will take the morning field. That will leave Paducah with only two daily newspapers, both good ones, one of them a morning and the other an afternoon paper. Two are enough, and Paducah will have to grow to ten times its present size before there will be room for a third daily paper."

The "Star League," composed of the Indianapolis, Muncie and Terre Haute Star, the leading papers of Indiana, has gone into the hands of a receiver. Newspaper competition, carried on in view of the public, is keener than that of any other business, and a natural desire to excel in appearance and completeness impels publishers to rash enterprises. It costs lots of money to maintain a newspaper. The circulation doesn't pay for it, and nearly every city offers its example of fortunes sunk in the newspaper business.

WESTERN KENTUCKY'S CLAIMS.

Western Kentucky must have a representative in the Big Four to the national Republican convention. This end of the state has been ignored too often. There is no distinction in being a Republican in the Eleventh district. It means something to be a Republican in the First, and it is a noticeable fact, that when the Gibraltar fails to come up with a big Democratic majority, the state goes Republican. That is to the credit of the Republicans of the Purchase.

They are entitled this time to representation on another score. Taft has won a notable victory in Kentucky in the face of seeming odds. The Fairbanks men pinned their faith to the First district and held an early convention to set the example for the remainder of the state. The good taker?"—Boston Transcript.

Republicans of western Kentucky came up nobly for Taft and the moral effect of the First district convention the remainder of the state is incalculable. Just for that, the Purchase Republicans should be accorded the honor of representing the state in the vote for Taft at the national Republican convention.

THE SOUTHERN DELEGATES.

It was a good week. Arkansas, Colorado, Maine, Maryland and West Virginia and North Carolina joined the Taft column. Significantly in connection with these return Mississipi, Florida and Tennessee send delegations to the Chicago convention. It has been iterated and reiterated that the Taft boom was bolstered by administration favor and his chief support would come from the "rotten boroughs" of the far south. On the contrary the only effective opposition to Taft has been in the states where federal patronage and money are the only things that arouse sufficient interest in a Republican convention to attract a quorum. Other candidates have been unable to manage their own state delegations without Taft's peremptory instructions to his friends to support them through courtesy.

Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Michigan, Ohio, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Maryland, West Virginia, Kansas, North Carolina and Kentucky—these are for Taft. When he needs them, New York, Wisconsin and part of Illinois will be for him. Control of the southern delegation has been the deciding factor in most contested Republican conventions, and it would be nothing to the discredit of Mr. Taft if the south was as solid for him as it was for President McKinley; but the Taft contingent knows no sectional lines and no class feeling.

KENTUCKY AT THE CONFERENCE.

The appointment by Kentucky's governor of three representatives for Kentucky at the conference to be held at the white house May 13 to 15 paves the way for active participation by the state in a meeting which promises important results to the whole country, says the Courier-Journal.

The conference is the idea of the president. It has been one of his hobbies to take steps to conserve the resources of the United States, which, it might well be remarked in passing, has been for long a hobby of many another.

In all sections the waste of property and power has been something scandalous. Our forests have been ruthlessly destroyed and as a consequence timber has become so greatly reduced in supply that the obtainment of wood for commercial and all other purposes is daily becoming a more difficult problem. Their destruction has had its evil effects in other ways, for the soil, the flow of streams, ground water, purity and volume of rivers and navigation have shown impairment. Something must be done to preserve existing forests and insure the replanting of trees for the future. Public lands have been dispersed. This state of things needs attention. Water power has been given away—water power of streams owned by the people and representing untold fortunes in their energy. These bespeak abuses and graft. And in other ways and fields the nation has suffered in the past by loose methods and bad laws. In some lines it is too late to do much good. In some others care, caution and wisdom, combined with firm hand, can do wonders. If the nation is to be on the upgrade these wonders must be performed. The warning sounded a year ago by so serious a student of economical conditions as James J. Hill still resounds in the action ofens. It is barely possible that this warning was responsible for the action of Mr. Roosevelt in calling the conference about to be held. Mr. Hill is to be one of the conspicuous figures in attendance.

Of course, the coming meeting can not legislate. It can only influence. That explains its being in English. Probably copied from a letter?

"This must have been one of the experiments in the valley that Stade told us of," said the captain thoughtfully. "Why, see here," he cried, with some thing like exultation, "that's what Dr. Schermerhorn was doing here. He has the key to some explosive so terrible that he goes far out of the world to experiment with its manufacture."

"Plebe neld?" asked Treudon. "These are high explosives," said Captain Parkinson. "We should have Captain Parkinson."

"Here's a name under the formula—Dr. A. Mardenter, Ann Arbor, Mich. That explains its being in English. Probably copied from a letter?"

"This must have been one of the experiments in the valley that Stade told us of," said the captain thoughtfully. "Why, see here," he cried, with some thing like exultation, "that's what Dr. Schermerhorn was doing here. He has the key to some explosive so terrible that he goes far out of the world to experiment with its manufacture."

"Don't explain enough," grunted Treudon. "Deserted ship, Billy Edwards, mysterious lights, Slade and his story—my explosives in those? Good enough for as it goes. Don't go far enough."

"It certainly leaves gaps," admitted the other.

He turned over a few more pages. "Formulae, formulae, formulae. What's this? Here are some marginal annotations."

"Cuthessash," read Treudon. "Let's see, that means 'slightly unsatisfactory,' or words to that effect. Hi! Here's where the old man loses his temper. Listen! 'May the devil tell Carroll and Crum for carelessness—h—u—well, 'pig dogs.' Now, where do Carroll and Crum come in?"

"They're a crew of analytical chemists in Washington," said the captain. "When I was on the ordnance board I used to get their circulars."

"Fits in. What? More English? Worse than the German this!"

The writing, beginning evenly enough at the top of a page, ran along for a line or two, then fell, sprawling in huge, ragged characters the full length. Treudon stumbled among them ludicrously.

"My five-year-old put it up to me this morning all right."

"That so? How?"

"Papa," he asked, "after every one dies, who will bury the under-remainder of the state?"

They are entitled this time to representation on another score. Taft has won a notable victory in Kentucky in the face of seeming odds. The Fairbanks men pinned their faith to the First district and held an early convention to set the example for the remainder of the state. The good taker?"—Boston Transcript.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, May 2.—Dun's Review says: "Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are $2,077,894.05—$4.1 per cent under a year ago and 37.8 per cent less than in the corresponding week of 1906. The losses this week are accentuated by the fact that the week in both preceding years includes two and three days respectively of the first days of May, when monthly settlements through the banks always add materially to bank clearings. This year the week ends on the last day of April. The decrease in bank exchanges is evenly distributed, through New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco report losses somewhat in excess of the average. Kansas City again reports a gain, and the losses at some of the leading western cities are below the average."

WHAT IS POWER?

New York, May 2.—Dun's Review says: "Wind supplies force. Wind to the wind-mill. The brook to the water-wheel. Coal runs the machine and food runs the man. Some things contain little or none."

MORSE PAYS UP.

Battered Prepaid Financier Dies Sobering Over Debts.

New York, May 2. Battered and beaten into the mud of high finance as many men believed Charles W. Morse had been at the time his bank chafe poised to be a series of cotton threads, he foisted them all, except perhaps a few wise ones. He rose out of much today triumphantly, slumping $10,000 or its negotiable equivalent, in the faces of his debtors who had sought to throw him into the bankruptcy court.

Today he peddled the greater part of his indebtedness to the National Bank of North America, the institution through which most of his life loads were financed. The money was sent up by New England friends of the former ice king.

"In the Woods."

"In the Woods," a pretty entertainment of drills, marches and songs was given last night at the High School auditorium by the pupils of Miss Anna Larklin, Miss Belle Ford, Miss Catherine Powell and Miss Catherine Thomas. This will be used to purchase a picture of George Washington, and a flag which will be hung in the hall on the first floor of the Washington building. Many requests have been received by the teachers to repeat the performance. At the close of the entertainment 171 pupils were on the stage in costume, and although each pupil had a part there was not one case of stage fright.

HOTELS CAN'T SELL LIQUOR.

More Than 200 Hotels Without License in New York.

New York, May 2.—More than 200 hotels on Manhattan Island in the Bronx, among them the big Savoy at Fifth avenue and Fifty ninth street, today, were without licenses permitting them to serve liquors to their guests. Nearly 500 saloons, also without licenses, were ordered to keep their doors closed. This unusual condition is almost entirely due to the new liquor license law, which requires inspection and report by the department of buildings on every application for a license before a certificate is issued.

It is likely that nearly all the hotels and a majority of the saloons eventually will receive their certificates and will be permitted to continue business.

NEW FORM OF BOOTLEGGING.

Warrants Will Be Served Out Against Dyersburg Merchants.

Thus a new form of bootlegging is gotten up on the unsuspecting country merchant, and some of our best law-abiding citizens are said to be caught in an unlawful act.

"The cook says they ain't nobody in the kitchen named William Thomas," reported a new bellboy at the St. Francis last night.

"Well, who said there was?" retorted Clerk Van Orden. "I told you to take that telegram to William Thomas, the tostmaster."

"Well, I seen the man what makes toast; he's got a French name."

Judge Prevents Escape.

City Jailer Wade Brown prevented an escape from the jail this morning by his watchfulness.

In making frequent trips through the jail, a prisoner had unscrewed a leg from a bed and was prizing at the lock to the east entrance. The footstep of the jailer caused the prisoner to drop his bar, and leave the door before the job was accomplished.

She dropped her eyes; he threw up his head.

Her face fell; he ground his teeth.

Her cheek burned; his heart sank.

She grew cold as ice; his brain was on fire.

Her heart came up in her throat;

his brow grew dark.

Her eyes flashed fire; he tore his hair.

Her very soul was rent; he could have bitten his tongue in two for saying it.

She cast the lie back in his teeth; he swallowed a lump in his throat.

She shuddered as with a mortal wound; he grew weak as water.

An icy hand clutched at her heart; then he trembled like an aspen.

She grew faint and sick; he was in agony.

Plainly she strove for breath; his eyes blazed.

She swept from the room; he fell in a heap on the rug.

Thomas Jefferson
Third President of the United States.

AMERICA has furnished to the world the most conspicuous Apostle of Personal Liberty that ever lived.

The Declaration of Independence (the creation of his genius) is an eternal monument to his fame—more enduring than statues of marble or bronze.

As a statesman in Congress he advocated the brewing industry as an aid to agriculture and national temperance; and upon several occasions he bought and freighted rum, wine and whiskey to the brave soldiers of the Revolution. He himself declared that the juice of the malt was never absent from his board.

Thomas Jefferson was a splendid athlete, a crack shot; and in his prime at the old Raleigh tavern he delighted to enjoy his "cakes and ale" or dance half through the night with the fair maids of old Virginia.

At eighty-three he died, regretted by the nation he helped to create. His deeds and written thoughts absolutely and irrefutably prove that good malt beer is not injurious to mind or body.

The Works of Thomas Jefferson, "See Post Lester Ford, Vol. 1, page 80, Vol. 2, page 41, Vol. 30, pages 110, 115, 301, Vol. 11, page 100, etc. History of Georgia, page 220. History of U. S., Vol. 1, page 29. Encyclopedia Americana, Vol. 5—Jefferson."

DIRECT into your home it comes—a square and honest product—foaming, sparkling and alive with the true creative energy and filled with the power of both sun and soil.
